'I enjoy developing strong working relationships with clients and ensuring I have a sound knowledge of their business and commercial goals. Achieving positive outcomes for clients is also very rewarding, especially when implementing commercial strategies which result in the efficient resolution of a claim. Having worked at insurance firms in both Australia and London, I have acted for a number of national and international clients on complex disputes and multi-jurisdictional matters. This has enabled me to gain a specialist understanding of insurance law, as well as an insight into a broad range of industries.'

Lauren has a Bachelor of Laws and a Bachelor of Business (Marketing). She is a member of Women In Insurance, Young Insurance Professionals, Claims Discussion Group and the NSW Engineering Discussion Group.
